Green Business Practices

Viridian Nutrition is committed to green business practices, valuing the importance of a minimum footprint on the earth. More than 40% of the Viridian Nutrition range is certified organic by the Soil Association, guaranteeing the provenance and eco-friendliness of the ingredients. At Viridian, we believe the health of the planet and the health of the individual are inextricably linked. Growing organically, avoiding the use of potentially harmful pesticides, herbicides and other chemicals – and having the 100% non-GMO guarantee – offers the best chance of long-term good health to people and to the planet.

There are a number of nutritional products now available in the UK which use the term 'organic' as a brand name or fancy name, or that claim organic status without certification, but you can only be sure a product is truly organically grown if the product is certified by a reputable regulatory body such as the Soil Association.

Our fresh organic tinctures and balms are grown and made in the Herefordshire using traditional methods, reducing the environmental impact of transporting ingredients around the world.

Our capsules and organic nutritional oils are produced in the UK, creating local jobs. We use minimum packaging for our products, all made from recycled or recyclable materials, from our glass bottles to the recycled cardboard shipping boxes. We take responsibility for our packaging, too, offering a 25p refund for bottles returned to the health store where purchased.

Organic Vitamins

The Viridian Nutrition extensive range of vitamin and mineral supplements is sourced from the best quality international suppliers. Vitamins can be derived from fruits and vegetables or grown on yeast in a specialist process. Now, for the first time in the UK, truly organic vitamins are available. Organic Folic Acid 400iu Veg Caps from Viridian Nutrition is a simple formulation offering an extract of lemons standardised to guarantee a fixed amount of folic acid in every capsule. The accuracy of the folic acid content is meticulously checked in analytical and microbiological laboratories ensuring its safety and reliability for use in food supplements. The lemons are grown on organic farms ensuring that the fruit is uncontaminated with pesticides or other chemical sprays. Organic B & C Veg Caps are natural standardised extracts from Lemons, Guava, Holy Basil and Amla.

The organic status is fully certified from the seed to the final ingredient by the Soil Association, the world's gold standard in organic certification.

Botanicals and Botanical Extracts

Scientists like to research using plant extracts, whereas herbalists often prefer the whole plant as used down the centuries. Combining the whole plant with a botanical extract we believe offers the best of both worlds. Our organic botanicals however, certified by the Soil Association, are simple whole plants encapsulated for the herbal purists.

Essential Fatty Acids

We have been told for years that fat is bad for us, but it was a lie. In fact, fats are required for many vital biological functions including the hormonal system, the brain, mood and in the regulation of inflammatory processes. Essential fatty acids are also crucial during pregnancy and in the developing child. Many of the Viridian Nutrition seed oils are grown and gently processed under the strict organic standards of the Soil Association. All our seed oil supplements are first cold pressed, packaged under a blanket of nitrogen, bottled in amber glass and where appropriate placed in a light-protecting recycled cardboard tube to maintain stability.
